

Fetal Development

Protect your unborn baby—eat healthy, exercise wisely, and avoid harmful substances.

The Critical Weeks of Early Pregnancy

All of your baby's major organs begin forming in the early weeks of your pregnancy. Your health and nutrition and avoiding harmful substances are important.

Making healthy choices for yourself is the best way to protect your unborn baby. Anything you eat, drink, breathe, or touch can affect your baby's development, especially in the very sensitive period beginning at conception.
